Father Paul's Reflections on the Readings

The Feast of Corpus Christi

Today's feast of the Most Holy Body and Blood of Jesus constantly calls us beyond ourselves to sacrificial love for others. Today's Gospel significantly does not speak of the Eucharistic meal but rather of another meal that Jesus shared with the multitude. The setting for this meal is the large crowd of people, who have followed Jesus into this deserted and lonely place. The disciples see the presence of crowd and the deserted place as problems, and so they ask Jesus to send the crowd away. Their solution was to get rid of the problem! Jesus is not thinking of the problem but his concern for the people. In the face of problems, we encounter, we often think there is so little we can do. Jesus takes the five loaves and the two fish, the tiny contribution of the disciples and uses it to share it with the multitude. When we willingly offer the little that we have to be shared with others, God gives the increase; the little becomes much in God's hands. We are invited to be actively involved not passive at the Eucharist, we are called to nourish others, like He did.

Therese of Lisieux and St. Teresa of Avila have their own stories about the influence their fathers had on their lives as role models. The Little Flower used to ask an innocent question to her first grader classmates: "Have you ever seen a saint praying? She would add: If you haven't, come to my house in the evening. You will see my dad on his knees in his room with outstretched arms, praying for us, his children, every day. Today we celebrate Father's Day. Being a father means, facing many struggles and difficulties. Even in these days, fathers are expected to be the providers for, and the protectors of the family. They make sacrifices day after day for their families. They try to give their youngsters a model of goodness, holiness, faith, trust in God, and fidelity to the teachings of the Church. This is what Father's Day should remind us of. True fatherhood demands commitment. Commitment demands maturity, sacrifice, and love. Fatherhood also demands responsibility. Fathers are a blessing, and we thank them for blessing us with lives of dedication, endurance, and love. As we celebrate Father's Day, let us thank God for fathers who raise their children strong and religious, and who dedicate their lives for their family and children.
